

Kamloops kids named to elite field lacrosse team

Published: June 22, 2011

Three Kamloops products were named this week to elite Burnaby Mountain Selects field lacrosse touring squads.

Colton Boomer of South Kamloops secondary was named to the under-15 team; Ryan Dergousoff of David Thompson elementary will play for the under-13 squad; and Ethan Anderson of South Kam was named to the junior team.

In total, more than 80 student-athletes from 22 different communities across British Columbia and Washington State will represent the Selects at top tournaments in Colorado, Maryland and New York.

Each team will attend one event, while also receiving organized tours of NCAA Division I college campuses and enjoying additional city sites and attractions.

For more information, visit selectslacrosse.com.