Hockey players, big and small

Decked out in hockey gear, three-year-old Ayden Goodall stood near a carving of Maple Ridge's hometown hero Cam Neely at Planet Ice Maple Ridge. Ayden's grandpa Grant took him to a public skating session at the local rink on Thursday, Oct. 20. Neely, a former all-star right winger with the Boston Bruins, was inducted into the Hockey Hall of Fame in 2005. A former Ridge Meadows Minor Hockey Association player, Neely is currently the president of the defending Stanley Cup champion Boston Bruins, and brought the coveted cup to Planet Ice in August. With Neely in attendance, the unique piece of art in his image was unveiled in February.

Lacrosse

Selects announce fall roster

Three kids from Maple Ridge and three from Pitt Meadows have been named to the 2011 lacrosse fall rosters for the Burnaby Mountain Selects (BMS) Elite Touring Teams.

Caleb Foley, who goes to Albion Elementary, will play on the boys U11 as a defenseman. Attacker Lyndon Knuttila, of Thomas Haney Secondary, will play on the boys senior team, and Mitchell

McDole, of Samuel Robertson Technical Secondary, will play on the boys sophomore team as a midfielder.

From Pitt Meadows two lacrosse players from Pitt Meadows Secondary will play midfield for the boys junior team: Riley Glemnitz and Andrew Gresham. Mateo Le Van also of Pitt Meadows Secondary will play attack on the boys U13 team.
